

Cookies and Website Privacy Statement

Kestrel Capital Limited respects your privacy and is committed to protecting your personal data. In this statement, we explain how we process and use any data we collect, or data you give us, through this website.

If we have sent you any terms of business please read them alongside this statement. This statement supports those terms.

Who is this privacy notice for? Any visitors to our website site.

Controller

Kestrel Capital Limited is the data controller and is responsible for your personal data. Our full details are on the Contact Us page of our website.

You have the right to make a complaint at any time to the Data Protection Commission (DPC), the Irish supervisory authority for data protection issues. We would, however, appreciate the opportunity to deal with your queries before you contact the DPC so please contact us in the first instance.

Inform us of changes

It is important that the personal data we hold about you is accurate and current. Please keep us informed if your personal data changes during your relationship with us.

Third-party links

This website may include links to third-party websites. Clicking on those links may allow those third parties to collect data about you. This Statement does not apply to those third party website. When you leave our website, we encourage you to read the privacy notice of every website you visit.

The Data We Collect About You

Personal data will be collected from visitors to our website such as the time and date of your visit, the pages you visit and your physical location when visiting them, and other more specific details like your IP address and the links you click throughout the website. This is in our legitimate interest to improve our website offerings and enhance your online visit to our website.

Opting out

You can ask us to stop sending you marketing messages at any time by Contacting Us.

Cookies

Cookies are small text files that provide information regarding the device used by a visitor. Where used, cookies are downloaded to your device and stored on your device.

How do I change my cookies settings?

You can change your cookie preferences at any time through the Cookie Settings. You may, at any time, delete or configure cookies by configuring your internet browser. Please visit the dedicated help sections (below) of your browser for information on cookie settings:

- Internet Explorer
- Chrome
- Firefox
- Safari web
- Safari for iOS
- Android Phones

To find information relating to other browsers, visit the browser developer's website.

Disclosures of your personal information

We may share your personal data with internal parties for research and analysis purposes.

International transfers

We do not transfer any website personal data internationally.

Data security

We have put in place appropriate security measures to prevent your personal data from being accidentally lost, used or accessed in an unauthorised way, altered or disclosed. In addition, we limit access to your personal data to those employees, agents, contractors and other third parties who have a business need to know.

We have put in place procedures to deal with any suspected personal data breach and will notify you and the DPC of a breach where we are legally required to do so.

Data retention

We will only retain your personal data for as long as necessary to fulfil the purposes we collected it for, including for the purposes of satisfying any potential regulatory requirements.

To determine the appropriate retention period for all personal data held by Kestrel Capital Limited, we consider the regulatory requirements applicable. Details of retention periods for different aspects of your personal data are available by contacting us.

Your rights

Under certain circumstances you may:

- Request access to copies of the personal data we hold about you and further information in relation to its processing, or else request that such information be supplemented, updated or rectified.
- Request erasure, anonymisation or blocking of your personal data that is processed in breach of the law.
- Object on legitimate grounds to the processing of your personal data. In certain circumstances we may not be able to stop using your personal data; if that is the case, we'll let you know why.
- Withdraw your consent – when personal data is processed on the basis of consent you may withdraw consent at any time. This does not affect the lawfulness of processing which took place prior to its withdrawal. In the event that you no longer want to receive any marketing material from us, please use the unsubscribe option (which is in all of our marketing emails to you), or contact us.

Changes to our Cookies and Website Privacy Statement

We may change this Statement from time to time. If we make changes, they will be posted here so that you can see what information we gather, how we might use that information and in what circumstances we may disclose it. Each time you use this website the current Statement will apply and you should review it each time you use this website.